Director, Technical Education, U.T., Chandigarh

Dear Readers

I take this opportunity to introduce that Government Industrial Training Institute, Sector 28C, Chandigarh having a glorious legacy of about 60 years of establishment. It has been one of the foremost institute of Vocational Education & Industrial Training in the region. I heartily congratulate you for introducing this e-Magazine UDAAN. Our students have made this mark into all sectors including government, private and public sector to serve the country as well as overseas in various capacities and to meet all kind of global challenges in the field of technology. We are determined to have a close relationship with major organizations/companies. We involve our students right from beginning on short and long term basis for industrial training. It facilitates hands on experience in real technological aspects and skill development. I am glad to note that the team has made use of this development and harnessed it in a big way in the form of e-Magazine.

From The Principal's Desk

Er. Arun Kumar

Principal, Govt. I.T.I., Sector 28C, Chandigarh

Dear Readers

We bring you our institute magazine, UDAAN. The most beautiful aspect of college/Institute life is the wide spectrum which it encompasses. Beside academics, students interact with each other and with their mentors on various scales. It is a pleasure to be able to draw a kaleidoscopic picture of all that has happened in the lives of students and staff in the recent months. Their words, as reproduced in the present issue of the Institute magazine express the diverse experiences that have affected the gateways of education. Their images express their joy of achievements. And their labour is evident in assembling all this in the form of a booklet. The youth are our future. We get a glimpse of our future in the microcosm of the institute campus. We have tried our best to maintain a happy exterior. The magazine is colorful and vivid. It rekindles the excitement of being together. I sincerely hope that you will enjoy all its pages. Thank you.
